Hope these prompts help spark your imagination!

Your character stumbles upon something they shouldn't and starts to unravel the mysteries of their small town.

Dialogue prompts:

1. "Do that again and you'll regret it,"
2. "These people are my family, and if you hurt them in any way – I will destroy you."
3. "You were supposed to be my friend. That's all...that's all I asked of you. To be my friend. To care."
4. "You know what? I think you're scared of me. I think you're scared, because I'm the only one who stands up to you."

More Prompts:

1. A paranormal investigator trying to make ends meet is met with surprise when he realizes his three children tagged along on a particularly dangerous investigation. Chaos ensues.
2. A hero reluctantly teams up with their archnemesis when they find themselves unable to defeat a new threat.
3. One morning, a news headline reads that an entire continent has disappeared off the face of the Earth. How did this happen and what role did your character play in it?
